Apply for UBC’s Graduate Certificate in Aquaculture program and you could be eligible for a Community Workforce Response Grant that covers 100% of tuition fees.

We are accepting applications for the September to December 2022 session (applications due August 10).

To qualify for the Community Workforce Response Grant, applicants must be:

- Qualified for the Aquaculture program (bachelor degree in science or equivalent)
- Resident of British Columbia
- Eligible to work in Canada (Social Insurance Number)
- A Canadian citizen, permanent resident, or protected persons
- Unemployed or underemployed
- Those on EI and Income Assistance may be eligible.

This certificate program prepares you with career-ready skills in aquaculture, a growing industry employing 25,000 people across Canada.

We encourage Indigenous peoples to apply.
